- Positions determined by last lap time or position in the bracket, whichever is higher in order
- Points are not negotiable.
- Top 48 drivers get series points based on their finishing position in each class. (we've never had more than 16)
- Individual with the most points in each class at the end of the season will be the class points champion
- Points are awarded to the driver not the vehicle
- There will be no substitution drivers
- Final point breakdown for each race event shall be as follows:

Position Points:

- Start at 96 points for 1st place and are reduced by 2 points, down to 48th place, for every finishing position.
- A perfect race (1st place, Fastest Qualifier, 2 Qualifying Runs) is 100 points.
- Contestant must stage (break the beam) to be eligible for points. If a contestant can't finish the run, it is merely counted as a loss in that round and will be scored for position based on their loss.
- Failure to finish the run will be scored lowest in the round behind other finisher losers in that round.
- In the event two or more contestants fail to finish, position will be determined by qualifying times.
